A DAY AT ANDREWS

Above: Tech. Sgt. David Koon, 89th Security Forces Squadron kennel master, rewards his dog after demonstrating how beags are inspected for explosives in the Joint Civilian Orientation Conference at Andrews Monday. The JCOC is a week-long, multi-service orientation program for civilian public opinion leaders who have limited knowledge of national defense issues. Right: 1st Lt. Jun Oh, 1st Helicopter Squadron co-pilot, greets Cynthia Tsai, CEO, Health Expo, New York after returning from an orientation flight locally, in one of the squadron's UH-1N helicopters. JCOC members were briefed on the missions and operation of the squadron and the UH-1N Huey Helicopters by Lt. Col. Timothy J. O'Brien, 1 HS commander.
